

Private Money is Needed

Western Europe Wants US Investors To Carry on The Marshall Aid Plan

By Joseph E. Dynan
PARIS, Feb. 8 —(P)—Western Europe wants private American investors to take up where U.S. government aid tapers off toward the end of the Marshall plan in 1952.

In a survey of the progress of the Marshall plan at the half-way mark, the European member areas yesterday discussed their needs for the final two years of the aid program. Private investment is needed to keep their economies stable after U. S. aid stops, the report said.

The report estimates these countries will need from $4,700,000,000 to $8,000,000,000 during the final two-year period to carry out their plans. This compares with $8,257,000,000 already given by the U. S. for the first two years of the plan.

Robert Marjolin, secretary-general of the organization for European economic cooperation (OEEC), said in a news conference yesterday the first two years of the Marshall plan had proved "unreservedly successful."

Useful so far
He asserted that Europe can profitably say it has made good use of American aid so far, with the exception of Greece and western Germany which have needed extra sums to keep them going.

Marjolin predicted that western Europe will be paying for three-fourth of its American imports with its own exports and services by 1952.

He said, however, that they may have to cut down on planned imports from the United States in order to close the dollar gap unless large scale private American investments are made to cover the predicted 25 percent deficit between imports and exports. The gap is expected to amount to over $2,000,000,000 in 1952.

What Survey Shows
The survey, compiled by a committee under the chairmanship of British economist Eric Roll, estimates that about $3,000,000,000 — not including military aid — will be needed for the fiscal year 1950-51.

This shows a considerable drop from expenditures in 1949-50, which amounted to $3,788,000,000, plus about $400,000,000 in special assistance for western Germany. These estimates are to be studied in congress before the appropriations debate starts on Feb. 21.

(In Washington some senators said today the outcome of the British national elections Feb. 23 will influence strongly the amount of money congress will approve for the rest of the Marshall plan. Republican Senator Smith of New Jersey said that a victory for Winston Churchill's Conservative would "make it much easier" to get congressional approval of the amount needed. He said some senators have no confidence in the economic policies of the present Labor government.)

The report said the total $8,257,000,000 already poured in the plan has removed the immediate threat of "bankruptcy and dissolution, with the political threats which would follow."

Horse Medicine Mistaken for Coffee
RY, N. H., Feb. 8.—(P)—A spoonful of powdered horse medicine she mistakenly brewed for coffee killed Mrs. Eva Hantoon, 64, within 15 minutes last night.

State police said the woman apparently took the wrong can from a kitchen shelf, getting instead of coffee, the poisonous powder.

Escapes Captured
BOONVILLE, Mo., Feb. 8.—(P)—Boonville police last night captured three 16-year-old boys who escaped from the State Training School here Monday night.

They were Edward Ralph Brasca, St. Louis; Johnny White and Henry Clay Herring, both of St. Joseph.

Just before the trio was arrested officers said a fourth youth, James Kennedy, 14, of St. Louis, jumped from a first floor dormitory window at the school and escaped last night.

Believe Tipping a Nuisance
JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 8.—Two members of the Mississippi legislature say tipping is a nuisance. They've introduced a bill to stop it.

Rep. Lowell Grisham and B. T. Weeks asked the house to approve a $20 fine on firms allowing tipping. They suggest $50 fines on firms accepting—or handing out—tips.

To Work or Not to Work

"No contract, no work" is the word among these idle miners, top photo, in Neffs, Ohio. Drinking beer to pass the time, they promise an immediate return to work "when we know what we're working for." Until then neither troops nor Taft-Hartley will get them into the ground is their pledge. Meanwhile about 2500 union miners are at work in the Kansas-Missouri mining area centered around Pittsburg, Kansas. The lower photo shows workers operating a giant shovel at the Eagle-Cherokee strip mine. The miners struck briefly, but returned to their jobs on Dec. 5, on a 3-day-week basis. They had worked 6 days a week before the strike. (NEA Telephoto)

Tells of Books Written on Life of Lincoln

Speaker Praises Dog Magazine Published Here

"The Lincoln Legend" was the topic taken by Dr. Forrest L. Foor, professor of history and economics at the Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, in his talk to the Sedalia Lions club at noon today, at the Bothwell hotel.

Dr. Foor, who has done extensive research work and has written a thesis on the life of Abraham Lincoln, in his talk told of the historians and other, who have written on Lincoln, unanimously voting him the greatest president of the United States. He told of the many books, pro and con, and articles which have been written on the life of Lincoln.

In the introduction Dr. Foor referred to Sedalia by saying, "When I think of Sedalia, I think of the Full Cry—the coon hunters' magazine. To me it is the best such publication now printed on that sport." Dr. Foor then went on to tell of helping to organize the Coon Hunters club in Warrensburg, Central Missouri, and the state organization.

Scott Webber Chairman
Dr. Foor was introduced by Scott Webber, program chairman. Dale Turner of Dale's Drive-In, was introduced by D. Kelly Scruton as a new member of the Lions. Hunt Haney, of the Host club of Kansas City, and a former district governor of South Dakota, was a guest of the club.

George Lockett introduced by Joe Ruddick, gave a short talk on the Boy Scouts of Sedalia and of the Statue of Liberty, which the local Scouts hope to have erected in Sedalia.

The club was entertained by three vocal duet numbers by Miss Emma Jean and Charlene Vaughn, of Clarksburg, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Nellie Monagan.

Lions Helped C. of C.
Lloyd Phillips, vice-president, presided in the absence of President A. W. Haller, who with a number of other Lions club members assisted the Chamber of commerce in serving lunch at the Soils and Conservation meeting held at Liberty park today.

The Lions will have a dance on Monday night, February 13 in the large dining room of Dan's cafe, according to Frank Deady, entertainment chairman.

Important Events In World News

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 8.—(P)—American agents disclosed today they are investigating a secret Nazi underground organization agitating for a new brand of Hitlerism in Germany.

The size of the underground group is unknown but one allied official called it "certainly dangerous." "It must be watched," he added. "On the other hand, it's importance should not be over emphasized."

LONDON, Feb. 8.—(P)—Moscow radio, commenting on President Truman's decision to make the hydrogen super bomb, said today the United States is following "the path pursued by the vanquished Nazis."

At the same time, however, the broadcast in English heard here spoke of the possibility of "peaceful competition" between the Soviet and capitalist systems and held out an implied invitation to the United States to step up trade with Russia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—(P)—Twelve citizens named by President Truman today start the two-day job of testing the government's metal money for weight and accuracy of design.

Complying with a 158-year-old law suggested by the first secretary of the treasury, Alexander Hamilton, the members of the annual assay commission will examine coins produced by U.S. mints in Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—Officials said today President Truman may draw on a special $75,000,000 Far Eastern fund to help newly recognized Indo-Chinese governments fight Communist expansion.

A promise of American aid to the new governments of Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia was held out by the state department yesterday in announcing United States recognition of those French-supported regimes.

This action followed British recognition by a few hours and came within a matter of days after France had ratified agreements establishing the three states as independent political units within the French union.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Feb. 3.—(P)—Dewey Bramble, 19, Weston, Mo. farm youth, was killed last night when his car overturned on Highway 92 about a mile east of Leavenworth in Missouri.

Two passengers, Carl Brooks, 22, and James Cline, Jr., 20, both of Weston, were injured. They were brought to a hospital here. Bramble was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bramble of near Weston.

Picher, Okla., Is Atop Hollow Earthen Shell

Warned Heart of Business Area May Cave-in

PICHER, Okla., Feb. 8.—(P)—Warning that the heart of its business district is in danger of a cave-in has stunned this lead and zinc mining center.

Mayor T. D. Wood and the council have taken under advisement a suggestion by the Eagle-Picher Mining and Smelting Co., that the four-block area be roped off "to protect the general public."

Eagle-Picher, owner of the property which is located over mine tunnels abandoned 10 years ago, yesterday gave 200 residents 30 days to move.

A dozen businesses, including the First State bank and a hotel, were left to their own devices. The company merely advises that they transfer activities to safer ground.

Could Collapse Any Time
Two weakened pillars in particular, located directly beneath the affected square, may cause the ground to collapse "today, tomorrow, next week or not in the next 25 years," the company explains. (Please turn to Page 6, Column 4)

Independence Rose Grower Guest Speaker in Sedalia

In a very informal manner, Martin C. Pashea, of Independence, winner of the Nicholson Perpetual Challenge bowl at the Kansas City Rose show in 1948, told his experience in growing roses in his talk before members of the Sedalia Rose society and guests at the Elks club Tuesday night.

"Speaking on the subject of 'Growing Roses in Missouri,' Mr. Pashea said that roses could be grown in Missouri just as well as any place else in the United States although it wasn't quite as easy a job here as in Oregon.

In relating his start in growing roses, Mr. Pashea said that a friend of his who grew roses to sell in Oregon, visited him and saw a large piece of ground at the side of the Pashea home which he thought should be in roses. "I'm going to send you some roses," he told Mr. Pashea, but in the spring he forgot to send them. When reminded of his promise, he said he would send them the next spring, and he did.

Acquit Young Girl in Mercy Slaying Trial

Declared Insane At Time She Killed Cancer-III Father

By Arthur Everett
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 8.—(P)—Carol Ann Paigh, acquitted in the mercy slaying of her cancer-doomed father, planned today to return to college as soon as she rests up from the ordeal of her trial.

The 21-year-old blonde, who pleaded temporary insanity, was freed last night by a jury of 12 parents.

She spent her first night at home in nearby Stamford since she shot her father, Police Sergeant Carl Paigh, last Sept. 23 as he slept in Stamford hospital. "Oh, God," the attractive six-foot girl sobbed as she broke down at the verdict. She was near complete collapse.

Her attorney, David Golstein, termed the verdict "just and fair," but added:

No Precedent
"This is no precedent for a mercy killing, in my opinion."

He said the case was tried solely on the issue of whether Carol was insane at the time of the shooting.

State's Attorney Lorin W. Willis declined to see newsmen. He sent out word that he had no comment.

The jury deliberated four hours and 51 minutes before foreman Judith Menhard, 52, announced the verdict. The trial lasted two weeks.

Carol was charged with second degree murder in Connecticut's first mercy slaying trial. She would have gone to prison for life if convicted.

The jury also could have convicted her of manslaughter — with a maximum penalty up to 15 years in prison.

Light applause swept through the courtroom at the verdict despite superior judge John A. Cornell's stern warning against any demonstration.

Corridors Thronged
Spectators thronged the corridors of the Fairfield county court house for more than 30 minutes to shout "Good luck, Carol," as the girl left for home.

Judge Cornell set her free within seconds after the verdict from the nine women and three men on the jury.

The jury members refused to say how many ballots they took. They said they pledged secrecy.

Carol clutched in her hand the same gold crucifix that was pressed there by her mother Thursday as the girl took the witness stand.

She testified she could not remember shooting her 52-year-old father as he lay in a drug-induced sleep after an operation that revealed his incurable cancer. He never knew he had the disease.

Back to College
The girl, perspiring beneath photographic lights after the verdict, told newsmen she would return to New England college at Henniker, N. H., as soon as she rested.

She said she was not engaged, although reports of a romance cropped up during the trial.

Mrs. Mary Paigh, 32, widowed by her daughter's mercy bullet, broke down in convulsive sobs at the verdict. Then she said: "I'm so happy I could die." She stood staunchly behind the girl throughout the trial.

Carol's brother, handsome, strapping Carl Paigh, Jr., 22, also was with Carol at the end as he had been throughout the trial. He too testified in her defense.

Coal Fact-Finding Board Gets Lewis To Bargain Again

Expect Miners To Disregard Court Orders

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8.—(P)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, says coal miners probably will disobey any court injunction issued under the Taft-Hartley law to end the mine strike.

Green, one-time aide of John L. Lewis in the United Mine Workers union, told reporters:

"In the event no settlement is reached in the mining controversy and an injunction is issued, I doubt very much that the court action will result in resumption of mining activity."

"I don't want to enlarge on that. But knowing the miners as I do, I feel justified in saying it."

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—(P)—The CIO Steelworkers today sent a $500,000 check to the United Mine Workers "to assist the needy miners and their families in their struggle against the coal operators."

President Philip Murray of both the CIO and the steelworkers said the donation was authorized by the steelworkers executive board.

Murray also sent an appeal to the 2,200 USW locals asking them to make additional contributions to the miners in their "no contract, no work" strike.

Murray sent a letter to John Owens, secretary treasurer of the UMW, saying he hopes "the financial and moral support" will be helpful "in bringing ultimate victory to the United Mine Workers."

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—(P)—The Mississippi Valley Association thinks Congress should take steps to prevent a recurrence of the present coal crisis.

In a resolution adopted yesterday at the closing session of its two-day convention, the association said the right to strike must be curtailed short of the right to injure the public.

The resolution requested that Congress amend anti-trust laws and make them applicable to labor organizations in order to restrain "monopolistic practices."

PITTSBURGH, Kas., Feb. 8.—(P)—About 250 union miners at two of the five major producers in the Pittsburgh coal field continued at work today. At the three other big pits, some miners appeared for the morning shift and then left the job.

All mines in this area have been working the 3-day week and there may be no further test of the "no work" sentiment until Monday.

Earthquake Jolts Lebanon
LEBANON, Mo., Feb. 8.—(P)—An earth shock jolted this south central Missouri city for more than 10 seconds early today.

The tremor, occurring about 5:35 a. m., awakened persons in all parts of the city, shook beds and furniture and set light fixtures to swinging.

Police were flooded with calls. The disturbance was reported as far away as five miles outside the city.

All of the patients at the Wallace hospital were awakened, and some dashed out into the halls.

Residents reported the shock felt like the vibrations accompanying a heavy rumble of thunder. They estimated it lasted from 10 to 15 seconds.

The Weather
Cloudy with occasional light drizzle early tonight. Colder late tonight, lowest near 30. Thursday partly cloudy, high near 40.

Temperature: 7 a. m. 43 degrees; 2 p. m. 44 degrees.

Rainfall: .14 inch.

Governor Coming To Wedding

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8.—(P)—Gov. Forrest Smith said today he would attend the wedding of Nancy Lee Campbell to Burbank Young in Sedalia this afternoon. Miss Campbell is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell of Sedalia.

The marriage will take place at the First Christian church at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. A reception at the Country club will follow.

Also attending the marriage will be Miss Mary Jane Truman, of Grand View, Mo., a sister of President Harry S. Truman.

'Possible' They May Get Together Is Statement Made By Both Sides

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—President Truman's coal fact-finding board today won agreement from John L. Lewis and the coal operators to try again for agreement on a coal contract through negotiations.

The new bargaining sessions were set for 1 p. m. with the board members sitting as observers.

The board members were optimistic that the whole coal dispute might be settled before nightfall.

David Cole, chairman of the board, had remarked that he believed an agreement might be reached "in two or three hours."

Lewis said it was "possible." The operators indicated they were less optimistic.

The board's proposal came after a somewhat stormy hour and a half of hearings during which Lewis once called Coal Man George H. Love "A liar by the clock."

Love Spokesman
Love is chief spokesman for northern and western coal operators.

Lewis hurled the "liar" charge in taking exception to Love's description of the union leader's bargaining tactics during the eight months contract dispute.

Once the agreement on new bargaining was reached, Cole told reporters he wasn't going to tell them where the sessions would be held because "I feel better progress will be made if the parties are not disturbed."

Cole added that he would give newsmen a progress report at 7 p. m. (C.S.T.) tonight.

Hope to Have News
"We hope to have some news for you at that time," he said.

Unless the parties ask more time at the close of today's sessions, he said, the board of inquiry will resume public hearings tomorrow.

When the board proposed the fresh bargaining, Harry Moses, representing United States Steel Corporation's coal mine interests, said he wished to state for the record that he felt any hope of a quick agreement was "too optimistic."

Lewis growled that the operators wanted no agreement, but preferred government action to send the miners back to their jobs by court order.

"Why should they make a contract?" Lewis demanded. "They are promised an injunction by next week."

Pointing at Moses with an unit cigar, Lewis said that Moses, "throughout the negotiations, was under instructions from Ben Fairless not to make a contract for the captive (steel-owned) mines until the commercial operators reached agreement."

U. S. Steel President
Fairless is the president of United States Steel.

Moses said: "I assure you that Mr. Lewis' thinking is wrong."

When the hearings began, Love was the first man questioned.

Cole asked whether Lewis ever had presented any specific contract demands to the mine operators.

Love said he was informed by Cyrus S. Ching (federal mediation chief) that "it was the union bargaining technique to say that 'you men own the mines, I have the men in the palm of my hands—what do you bid?'"

Lewis jumped up and leveled off at Love across the table:

"That's an infamous and deliberate lie. I said we represented the men. I said to you George Love, you're a liar by the clock."

Cole tried to interrupt. Love protested: "I don't want to go into personalities, Mr. Cole."

"Why not?" Lewis shouted. "Cole restored calm and the hearings went on."

They will appear in concert in Shenandoah, Iowa, tonight. This will complete the choir's tour of the season. This is the first time the college organization has been into this area since the war.

The program was presented to a full house and was well received. The Sedalia Men's Choral club attended the concert in a body.

The program presented was as follows: "Jesu Dulcis Memoria", Victoria, "Hosanna To The Son of David", Gibbons, "Our Days Are As A Shadow", Bach, "Sing Ye To The Lord", Bach, (intermission) "Night And A Lonely Star", Christiansen, "Jubilate", Burkhart, "Celestial Choirs Are Singing", MacKenzie, "Finale From An Apostrophe To The Heavenly Host", Willan, (free will offering and intermission) "Song To The Night", Dunn, "In Dulci Jubilo", arr. At the first intermission the choir's manager, H. W. Hartman told those present of the type of choir and school Morningside college was. He said that the college is a Methodist institution and a liberal arts school. He said the young men and women attending the college were study pre-medical, pre-law, pre-engineering and ministerial studies.

Mr. Hartman said that the group had been exposed to many different types of weather on their two-week tour. He said when they left Sioux City the temperature had fallen below zero and by the time they arrived in New Orleans the mercury there stood in the high seventies.

Recognition Given by U. S.

Accorded to States Tuesday In Indo China

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—The United States and Britain acted Tuesday to meet the Communist advance in southeast Asia by recognizing French-backed Vietnam and two other new states in Indochina.

The United States granted unqualified recognition and hinted at American aid a few hours after London announced Britain's decision to accept the three governments as independent states within the French union.

The action set the stage for possible new cold war struggle in the far east. Russia, communist China and several European Soviet bloc states only last week gave their formal support to the rebel regime headed by Ho Chi-Minh, veteran Moscow revolutionary.

The state department announced that President Truman is ready to name a minister to Vietnam and the other two governments, the kingdoms of Laos and Cambodia. A formal announcement said further that the U. S. is considering measures to "promote political stability and the growth of effective Democratic institutions in Indochina."

TWO-WAY STRETCH

that's strictly inside stuff!

Look! Wrap-around rear window and top-side styling in the Riviera manner

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

HERE'S THE NEW 1950 BUICK SUPER 126, companion body-type to the equally new ROADMASTER 130. Both are shorter than last year's 4-door Sedans—yet 4 inches longer in wheelbase. In both, the difference is used to give you real stretch-out room in the rear seat.

What the boys did here really calls for some medals.

We gave them the job of coming up with something that was bigger inside—for room and comfort—longer in wheelbase—always important to good riding qualities—yet unbulky and easy-handling in over-all dimensions.

Just look how well this tidy number meets these "impossible" specifications!

Item one—rear-seat cushions are a full foot wider than last year's SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Item two—in every dimension—leg-room, head-room, hip-room, shoulder-room—this rear-seat compartment is bigger than previous models—and nearly four inches longer, fore and aft, than other 1950 Buick interiors.

Item three—wheelbases are the longest of our 1950 line. On the SUPER, it is 125½" instead of 121½"—on the ROADMASTER 130¾" instead of 126¾".

Yet—and here's where the magic comes in—the whole car is shorter over-all. Actually less from bumper to bumper than previous Buicks in these series.

That means easier parking, easier tucking away in family garages, easier maneuvering in crowded traffic.

There are some other things too. An extra rear-quarter window not found in standard 4-door Sedans. A different upperstructure styling that makes this body-type stand out as something pretty special.

Even special names that let you say, "I drive a SUPER 126" or "Mine's a ROADMASTER 130," just by way of being different.

Yes, we think we hit on a happy idea in the "Longfellows," as they're coming to be known. They are not longer, on the outside, but there's a two-way stretch—in width and length—in the rear compartment.

You're going to like that—as you'll see by calling on your own Buick dealer. If he doesn't have one on hand, he can get it pretty promptly—and at a price and on a deal you'll have trouble matching, much less beating, anywhere else.

See him now, will you—about placing an order?

Features like these mean BUICK'S THE BUY

Social Security Official Information

As Provided by Manager of the Sedalia Office

"Interest in and curiosity about the Old Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Federal Social Security Act prompted 30% more questions about the program in 1949 as compared with 1948, on the part of residents in the area served by the Sedalia field office of the Social Security Administration." This comment was made today by Scott Webber, manager, in reviewing the work of the Sedalia office during 1949.

Webber said this statement is based on the fact that the Sedalia office handled 3312 inquiries about Social Security in 1949, compared with 2550 in 1948.

The increase in the number of inquiries about Social Security continued, "is due in a large measure to the excellent cooperation the Sedalia office has had from the newspapers and radio stations in this area. Congressional action toward amending the present Social Security Act certainly created a growing public interest in the program, but it is the continuing efforts of the press and radio that enables us to answer general questions about the present law for the greatest number of people."

Other Items Involved

Other items involved in the administration of the Social Security office in Sedalia also increased during 1949. The office cleared 610 new claims for benefits—including those of retired workers over age 65, and those of widows, dependent children, and a few dependent parents of deceased workers. The office also issued 2197 new Social Security numbers, 1577 duplicate account number cards, 616 applications for change in records for women wage earners who married or divorced during the year, and cleared 791 incorrectly or incompletely reported wage items.

"This last item, incorrectly or incompletely reported wage items," Webber said, "is still greater than we should have; however, until all employees accept the responsibility of determining their Social Security number is correctly reported to their employers, it probably won't be reduced much."

Remember to Show Card

"Any time there is a change in employment, the wage earner should make certain he shows his account number card to the employer, and the name and number recorded exactly as it appears on the card. By that method only, can the worker be certain he gets credit for all his wages. In reducing the number of incorrectly reported items, there would be the added factor of having aided in the cost of operation. Every time we have to write a letter about a Social Security number that has been reported in error, it costs money as well as time. Our objective is to reduce operational costs, the same as that of any prudently managed business."

Execution Not Be Next Week

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee assured an Iowa mother Tuesday her condemned son won't be executed next week—but beyond that he made no promises.

Mrs. Vane Sweet of Des Moines wrote the governor, asking for leniency for her son, Vernon Braasch, 21, of Reinbeck, Iowa. Braasch and a companion, Melvin Sullivan, 19, of Kansas City, were convicted of killing a filling station operator at Beaver, Utah, last Oct. 22. They were sentenced to die Feb. 16.

Lee informed Mrs. Sweet that attorneys have indicated they will appeal the conviction to the state supreme court. Failure in the courts likely would be followed by an appeal to the state board of pardons. Either action automatically would stay the execution.

"The scheduled execution on Feb. 16 unquestionably will be stayed until the appeal has been heard," the governor wrote. "What the decision on the appeals will be I do not know."

"As the governor I do not have any power to commute the sentence of a murder, or even a petty thief."

In Des Moines Mrs. Sweet said she was "afraid there's no hope" for saving her son's life. She added:

"Oh, he's guilty. I guess there's no question about that. And I'm afraid there nothing more we can do. But he's a good boy—he'd give you the last penny he had."

EVERYTHING I ATE DISAGREED WITH ME UNTIL

I found I was suffering from nutritional deficiencies!

Expectant mothers may not be aware of it, but they oftentimes have a deficiency of essential B vitamins and minerals—which are so necessary if they want to help bear strong, healthy babies.

Undoubtedly, Nature's plans are to disregard the older life to do the best possible for the new individual coming into the world. In order to maintain normal calcium concentration in the blood, Nature makes so great an effort that it robs bones and teeth for this purpose. This explains the increase in tooth decay during pregnancy, for Nature robs the mother—to feed the child—of not only calcium, but of iron and other valuable elements.

So give your children the right start—take wonder-working HADACOL all through the waiting months. HADACOL relieves morning sickness, upset stomachs, heartburn and constipation when (as so often) these symptoms are due to such deficiencies. HADACOL helps reinforce and nourish body tissues. It contains precious calcium to help keep your teeth sound. A Deliberate Lie' Churchill Says in Speech

Referring to Some Statements Made By Labor Party

By Don Whitehead
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—Senators today said the British general election this month will have a strong influence on how much money Congress will approve for Europe's recovery.

They said that if Winston Churchill and his conservative return to power Congress will be less likely to make a heavy cut in Marshall plan spending, but if the Labor government wins out the cut may be drastic.

Senator Smith (R-N.J.), a supporter of the European Recovery program, told a reporter there is no doubt a conservative victory would make it much easier to get congressional approval of the third-year program.

CARDIFF, Wales, Feb. 8.—(P)—Conservative leader Winston Churchill charged the Labor party today with deliberate lying to win votes in the Feb. 23 election.

Churchill made the charge in a political speech as he began a swing around the kingdom to gain support for the Tories who hope to oust the present Labor government.

He declared that Prime Minister Clement Attlee's followers have adopted a Nazi-Communist principle that if an untruth is told often enough and widely enough it becomes as good as the truth.

Attlee is due to speak also today in four different cities as he commences his automobile tour of the country to court votes for the Laborites who have been in power since 1945.

In a slashing, gloves-off speech prepared for a mass meeting at the Cardiff football field, the 75-year-old Conservative leader offered a point by point rebuttal of Labor claims which he said did not jibe with the facts.

A "Cruel Lie"

Churchill said the Laborites and coal field communists "continually spread the story" he sent troops to shoot down the Rhondda valley mine strikers in Wales when he was home secretary in 1910. He called this a "cruel lie."

Churchill said the fact was that although the chief constable of Glamorgan—the Welsh county mainly involved—asked for troops to put down strike disorders the soldiers were never sent.

"I made an unprecedented intervention," Churchill declared. "I stopped the movement of the troops and I sent instead 650 metropolitan police from London with the sole object of preventing bloodshed."

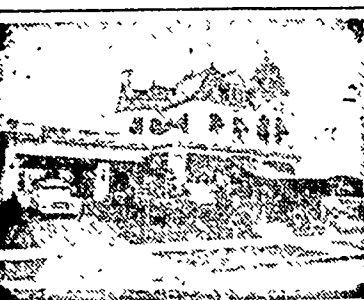

He said the unarmed police charged rioters using their rolled up mackintoshes as weapons, thus averting any bloodshed "except perhaps some from the nose."

Spiked Another Story
Churchill declared he also wanted to spike what Britons call "the empty bellies story" in the Labor party's campaign manifesto, or election platform.

Said Churchill: "This is their official statement: 'Empty bellies,' one Tory has said, are the one thing that will make Britons work."

He declared the Laborites seek by this means "to defame the whole Conservative party by fastening on them the monstrous charge that they wish to inflict empty bellies upon the people to make them work harder." Churchill continued:

"We have however made enquiries. 'Apparently a Mr. Higgs, formerly a Conservative member of Parliament, made this statement three years ago when visiting New Zealand."

Our Aim

spraying, and cultivating roses. He did not believe in too much winter protection nor watering.

Another Experience

Another amusing experience Mr. Pashea told about in his talk was spraying his roses a few days before a rose show and finding that the spray was too heavy and had discolored the foliage. Since that is a point in judging he didn't know what to do and finally tried rubbing it off with one of his wife's discarded nylon stockings.

Mr. Pashea said it worked like a charm and he had the prettiest, glossy foliage at the show. "So," Mr. Pashea told his audience, "if you want an easy way to polish your foliage, use nylon hose." Then he changed the wording a bit, "I mean a good way—not an easy way, it's far from easy, I worked hard, very hard, very late that night trying to get a polish on the 85 specimen roses."

Mr. Pashea was introduced by Mrs. C. L. Carter, program chairman.

Mrs. Herbert Seifert, president, presided over the business meeting and introduced Mrs. Pashea, who made a brief talk.

Twenty-eight guests were also introduced.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses on either side of which were yellow candles in crystal candelabra. Pouring were Mrs. Seifert and Mrs. H. C. Sammons.

Request High Official Quit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—A high postoffice official has quit—by request—in connection with dealings in special stamp issues which reportedly cost "investors" hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Postmaster General Donaldson confirmed last night that Harold F. Ambrose, his special assistant in charge of public relations, had been asked to resign and had done so Jan. 11.

Donaldson would not discuss the case in detail, saying that it was "still under investigation by the postoffice inspectors."

He did say he had requested the resignation after getting reports that Ambrose had offered to act as agent for buyers of large blocks of commemorative stamp issues.

Ambrose, married to a niece of Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), was said to have entered the postoffice department's information section in 1933, when the senator was first assistant postmaster. The special assistant's job Ambrose held until recently pays $10,000 a year.

Mrs. O'Mahoney told newsmen last night that Ambrose had gone to the senator and reported being "in a jam," O'Mahoney's advice, she said, was to tell the full story to Donaldson, then quit.

Tax Committee Meets Friday

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8.—(P)—The spearhead of Gov. Forrest Smith's campaign in favor of a gasoline tax increase will be forged Friday in formation of a committee, Smith told his news conference today.

He said the committee will be composed of some 20 members from all parts of the state. During the luncheon meeting the committee will organize, elect officers and lay the groundwork of the campaign to double Missouri's two-cent gas tax.

Meanwhile, a court fight against the special referendum election on the tax hike is scheduled for an airing tonight in Cole county circuit court. Judge Sam C. Blair will hear arguments for and against a Republican state representative's charge that the April 4 election date was set unconstitutionally.

Blair also will take under advisement the attorney general's motion to dismiss the suit filed by Rep. George Bohrer of St. Louis county, caucus chairman of the Republican minority in the House.

Searching for Air Force C-47

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Feb. 8.—(P)—Search planes, droned over the Arctic wastes northwest of here today looking for possible fires or flares from a missing air force C-47.

The C-47, carrying 12 Canadian and U. S. airmen, vanished yesterday while searching for a C-54 transport which disappeared Jan. 26 with 44 persons aboard.

Search officials said S.O.S. signals from the C-47 were picked up last night on the 8280 distress frequency. Efforts to obtain a "fix" on them were fruitless.

Ground radio posts in the area were ordered into a 24-hour alert. The signals reportedly were different from those heard earlier in the day by planes and coast guard stations along the Pacific coast.

The earlier signals, reported from the United States to Alaska, were similar to those picked up from time to time since the search for the missing C-54 began.

I hope was held here that the C-47 might have landed on one of the two landing fields or two lakes in the Aishihik area, about 100 miles northwest of here, where it was assigned to check a 900-square-mile area. Poor visibility eliminated a possible check on these spots last night.

Picher, with a population of 5,000, is located in the northeast corner of the state, 106 miles from Tulsa.

Take $130,000 In Currency

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 8.—(P)—Two armed robbers escaped with an estimated $130,000 in currency after a daring holdup of the Bank of Douglas here early today.

James Wise, vault teller at the bank who was forced at gun point to open the bank's vault, said the men took the money in bills of $100 denominations or smaller. He estimated the total at close to $130,000.

The two robbers caught the bank janitor, Clinton Wade, outside the bank shortly before 6 a. m. and forced him to let them into the building. When Wise entered the bank about an hour later, one of the men confronted him with a gun and ordered him to open the vault.

Wise complied and gave them the money. He and several other employees who had meanwhile reported for work were locked in a closet in the vault room and the bandits fled. Wise said one man had a gun, the other a knife.

They were released by Tom Spencer, a bookkeeper, who entered the bank shortly afterwards.

Find Narcotics In Phone Booth

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(P)—A cache of narcotics worth $24,000 was seized last night—part of it in a telephone booth in the Hotel McAlpin, where it allegedly had been left for a customer by peddlers.

The seizure and two arrests were revealed early today by police and federal agents.

The prisoners were linked with a dope ring that had been trailed since last November, Polke said. They were booked as Isidore Halitzer, 31, and Philip Shear, 31, both of Brooklyn.

The two men were arrested after parking their automobile off Herald Square—33rd street and Broadway—near the hotel.

After the arrests, police said, 33½ ounces of pure heroin were found in the car, 13 ounces in a package in the hotel phone booth, one ounce on Shear's person, and 66 2/3 ounces in a Brooklyn apartment.

Police said Halitzer telephoned a customer and told him a package would be left for him in the telephone booth. It was Halitzer's practice, police added, to wait nearby until he saw a customer pick up a package.

Police, who found 1,000 pairs of nylon stockings in the rear seat of the car, said the two prisoners used hosiery in cartons as a cover-up for delivery of narcotics.

To Meet Father He Never Saw

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 8.—(P)—Stuart Montgomery, 24, was speeding to Los Angeles by train today to meet his father, whom he has never seen.

Montgomery will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow, on the Santa Fe Chief. He will start scanning the union station for a man six feet, six and a half inches tall. That will be his father, Thomas C. Montgomery, 46, of San Diego, whom he has been seeking for 12 years.

Stuart said his parents were separated shortly after his birth and that he was brought to Peoria by his mother in 1926. Shortly afterward, he was separated from his mother and was raised in a foster home here.

Stuart said he had written thousands of Montgomerys throughout the nation and to scores of police chiefs seeking his father.

Last Wednesday, acting "on a hunch," Stuart wrote the police chief at Parker, Colo., where his father was born. Monday he received a letter from an aunt, whom the Parker police chief had located in Denver.

The aunt informed Stuart that his father is an electrical engineer employed by the government at San Diego.

"I called him up, but we were so excited I didn't find out much," Stuart said. Then they arranged the meeting.

Sulfa Derivative Arrests Disease

CARVILLE, La., Feb. 8.—(P)—About half the cases of Hansen's disease (leprosy) at the U. S. Marine Hospital (leprosarium) here are being controlled by a sulfa drug derivative, the institution's superintendent reported today.

Dr. Frederick Johansson, superintendent, said in an interview about 50 per cent of the cases are being "clinically and bacteriologically" controlled. The doctor explained this meant the disease is arrested from developing to its final and fatal stage.

"I don't mean that sulfa drugs cure them completely," he pointed out. "But in many cases the patient is cured to a point where he will not endanger other people."

Woman Questioned in Slaying Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—An attractive 18-year-old blonde woman was under questioning here today in connection with the hitch-hike slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, well-to-do oil man, in an Amarillo, Tex., tourist camp last June 22.

Federal police said the woman, who voluntarily told a story of the 53-year-old Thornton being slain in a fight with her male hitch-hiking companion, gave her name as Diana Heney Johnson.

Must Come Back To Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8.—(P)—Twins or no twins, Ronald Yinger must come back to the Missouri penitentiary, the state parole board has decided.

Nathan Grosgold, one of Yinger's attorneys asked the board yesterday to let Yinger stay in New York. He pleaded that Yinger could start life anew there for his family, including one twin born in the last few minutes of 1949, and the other at the opening of 1950.

But the board said no reason to change its earlier decision. Yinger must come back to serve his one to three year term on a bad check charge. The board found he violated his parole by leaving the state without permission.

Grosgold also talked with the governor's legal secretary, James Meredith. Meredith said the board's decision undoubtedly would be final.

The extradition case comes up for hearing before a New York magistrate tomorrow.

An Unexpected $27,000 Estate

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—(P)—John Lott, 72, of Hannibal, Mo., was upheld yesterday in his claim to the $27,000 estate of the wife he thought he divorced 30 years ago.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed an earlier decree by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

Court records showed that Lott married Olga Block in 1920 and left her after six weeks. He gave a man $25 to get a divorce for him. He remarried a year later, assuming he was divorced.

Olga Block died in Chicago in 1947 without leaving a will. Two lawyers appeared in Hannibal that year and told lot, a butcher, that they were settling the claims of four or five of Olga's other husbands.

Lott signed a waiver in return for $400. The court decision also nullified the waiver.

The court records did not show that any other husbands ever had been found.

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—(P)—Boys collecting years and non-sense, as well as must do, I collect another thing just for fun—and that is faces.

Probably everyone does unconsciously, but I do it deliberately. It is the cheapest hobby I know of, and differs from every other form of collecting in at least one respect: No one is going to corner the market in faces, then die and leave them to a museum.

All the Rembrandt paintings seem by now to be known, owned and under guard. So do most of the rare postage stamps. And you have to go to an auction to bid in on Louis the 14th furniture. But faces are different. You find them everywhere. They keep on coming forever. Everybody has got at least one and more people have two than will admit it.

Don't Have to Buy

The pleasant thing about collecting faces is you don't have to buy them. Nor do you try to wrench them off the owner, take them home and put them under glass. Heaven knows the average wife wouldn't allow that. She would keep breaking into your study and saying, "Victor, now you are simply going to have to throw away some of your faces. They are cluttering up the house."

No, you just look at the faces as they go by—and let them clutter up whomever they belong to.

I am the last man in the world to put people in pigeonholes, or pigeons in people's coops, but faces do tend to run in patterns. And when you collect them, you look for different patterns just as you follow a thread of theme in symphonic music.

Likes Young People

The faces I like best are those of very young people. A child's face is like the Bay of Naples—the light across it shifts and changes and from moment to moment it is never quite the same. You can never tire of it, and if I didn't have to work for a living I couldn't think of a more wonderful way to pass the rest of my life than looking at children. It is better if the children are not you're own—because then the ownership question enters in.

The next best faces—to me—are those of old people. I have read in books that old people generally are selfish and querulous. If that is so, I have been lucky, because most of the old people I know have been just the opposite. They do have a habit of saving string, but that is just because, knowing their days are rationed, they have come to hate waste of any kind.

The sunset face has a memory for every wrinkle and I like to look at the wrinkles as the face opens and unfolds its memories. You never can weary of looking at an old face—if you like faces or like people.

Faces He Doesn't Like

The dullest faces are those between childhood and old age—the made-up, curly-combed, on-guard faces of people wary of themselves and everybody else. In this period people are more interested in saving face than showing face. They can't discipline their thoughts—but they do discipline their faces, so far as they can.

In my collection are a treasure store of splendid faces I have seen around the world, in war and peace. If I had to lose them all—excepting those of friends and family—what face would I keep in mind's eye? I think it would be a Chinese face. Any Chinese face.

It is like trying to read an old and wonderful story through a veil.

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round
J. Edgar Hoover Reports to Senate on Subversive Activities
By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—After J. Edgar Hoover's lengthy session with the Senate Appropriations committee last week regarding A-bomb leaks, newspapers reported that Senators left the meeting ashen-faced over the disclosures.

Here is what Hoover said to cause those ashen faces.

Hoover dramatically reported that subversive activities in the United States are at an all-time high—worse than during the war.

He also revealed that Communists are doing away with party cards in order to prevent detection and conviction. Instead, they identify each other by word of mouth.

Hoover told the Senators that Communists were making a special attempt to infiltrate into strategic industries such as telegraph, telephone and the manufacture of electrical equipment. Asked point-blank by the Senators whether there still was a spy ring inside the government, Hoover answered "no."

The head G-man complained that Elizabeth Bentley's sensational disclosures two years ago had been premature and that as a result the FBI lost many sources that had been carefully planted for ten years inside the Communist party.

Listening to Hoover as he testified was Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan who was partly responsible for the Bentley disclosures. Ferguson, together with Congressmann J. Parnell Thomas, then chairman of the un-American Activities committee, heard about Miss Bentley in connection with the Communist treason trial being prepared in New York and jumped the gun on the Justice Department. In order to cop the news headlines, they called Miss Bentley before their committees and smeared her testimony all over the front pages.

New Employees Needed

Hoover was testifying in order to secure appropriations for about 700 new employees. He illustrated the work of his G-men by telling how during the first trial of Alger Hiss, the FBI was unable to locate Hiss' maid. All Mrs. Chambers could remember about the maid was her name, "Mary." However, after the first trial, Mrs. Chambers dug up a rough sketch she had made of the maid, gave it to the FBI, and after honeycombing Baltimore and using only this sketchy evidence, finally the G-men located the maid.

Hoover told the Senators that Dr. Klaus Fuchs had access to every atomic secret in the United States and was even in on the "final critical assembly" of the A-bomb. This was the most top-secret phase of the Manhattan project.

Hoover testified at machine-gun speed throughout the closed-door session. Here are some of the figures he rattled off regarding crime in the U.S.A. last year: 1,686,670 major crimes committed in the entire country; the big increases since 1941 have been 67.4 per cent more "aggravated assaults," 35.2 per cent more rapes, 27.5 per cent more burglaries, 24.4 per cent more robberies, 7.3 per cent more larceny.

However, murder has dropped 0.7 per cent since 1941, manslaughter has decreased 5.5 per cent and auto thefts 11.5 per cent. The FBI, he said, had a record of 97.2 per cent convictions last year.

How Fuchs Worked

Here is the background in which Dr. Klaus Fuchs, arrested as a Russian spy in London, worked in the U.S. during the war.

Los Alamos, where he was stationed, was unlike all the other atomic installations and not compartmentalized. In other words, scientists did not work in secret compartments, but were familiar with each other's work. There were some 600 scientists at Los Alamos, of which the foreign "colony" numbered about 60—20 British, 2 Swiss, 10 German refugees, and some Italians.

Sir James Chadwick headed the British delegation. Fuchs was not considered on the first team, but rather on the second. Since there was no compartmentalization, his exact scientific standing made no difference as far as collecting data was concerned.

Fuchs' friends recall that he first worked on atomic matters in Canada, at the Chalk River plant in Northern Ontario. This is Canada's chief atomic lab. Next he went to New York, where he was assigned to working out the plans for the Oak Ridge diffusion plant; then on to Los Alamos.

The scientists at Los Alamos were confined to a 200-mile radius from the Los Alamos lab. due to the fact that an Army officer made a security slip in a Denver bar in the early days and trips to Denver were ruled out. Scientists were also forbidden to communicate with either friends or relatives—except in emergency.

According to British intelligence, Klaus Fuchs came to Britain from Germany in 1932 as an anti-Nazi refugee on orders from Moscow. Fuchs' instructions were to work his way into British scientific circles. As a result he became a British citizen, knew every secret of the A-bomb including the exact size to the critical mass that makes an explosive, and even the secret of the detonator.

Fuchs also knew about the H-bomb, which our scientists tried to produce before they got the A-bomb. The British believe he gave everything to the Russians.

Blue-Gray Money
Rep. Pat Sutton of Tennessee has received a flood of mail from civic leaders, clergymen, labor unions and bankers all over the nation, pledging support for his bill to smoke out an estimated $10,000,000,000 of underworld cash by a new issue of currency.

Also, more than 100 members of Congress have assured Sutton they will vote for his bill if it gets to the floor. Meantime, broad-gauged Rep. Brent Spence of Kentucky, chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee, has promised to give the measure a public hearing.

However, Sutton's supporters are divided on the color of the proposed new currency. When Rep. Philip Philbin of Massachusetts asked Sutton what color he favored, the Tennesseean replied:

"Well, being a Southerner, I'm for gray."
"Well, I'm a Northerner," came back Philbin, "and therefore lean to blue. But what do you say we compromise on blue and gray."
"That's okay by me," agreed Sutton.

H-Bomb Mustn's End Search For Peace Through Diplomacy

By Bruce Blossat

Having the hydrogen bomb may not keep us out of war, but we cannot risk not having it. So President Truman has made the fearful yet unavoidable choice. We are going to build a weapon of almost incredible destructive power.

The decision was inevitable because the basic information needed for the making of the H-bomb is well known to our great potential enemy, the Soviet Union. No moral considerations could override that fact.

We should understand what we are undertaking. There is no scientific ceiling on the ferocity of this bomb; it could be possibly 1000 times more powerful than the A-bomb. Harrison Brown, atomic scientist, says the weapon might destroy an area of 300 square miles. Dropped over New York or Chicago; it could kill 2,000,000 people.

By these measures, the A-bomb is now antiquated, though it is less than five years old.

Of course, most experts do not expect the H-bomb to be built to its maximum. They're talking of a weapon 10 to 100 times more powerful than the A-bomb. For certain practical limits do exist.

One is the size of the planes that can be constructed to deliver the bomb over a target. It may not be feasible to enlarge bombers much more. Another question is whether plane crews could get safely away from the shock waves produced by a real super-bomb.

Furthermore, despite its name, the proposed new bomb is not actually a hydrogen explosive. Its chief ingredient would be a chemical called tritium, a sort of twin of hydrogen. Tritium is not plentiful. It is found in ordinary water in very minute amounts, and it has been produced synthetically in atomic energy laboratories. But getting enough of it is expected to be the costliest part of the H-bomb project.

Nevertheless our scientists confidently hope they can make an H-bomb within a year. And they doubt the ability of the Russians to match our pace.

It would be a grave mistake, however, for us to pin too much faith on this new device of destruction—frightening as it may be to the world.

A crucial issue, still undecided, is facing the nation's military experts: Is this the best way to spend our defense dollars?

The answer won't be known until the H-bomb project has proceeded far enough to give us an accurate idea how much money and manpower will be involved. Then we will have to measure the bomb's probable worth against other ways of using our resources.

For example, there's a question now whether lightning jet fighter planes may not have the upper hand over even the fastest bombers. If military men decided there was real doubt about our chances of delivering the H-bomb to enemy targets, they might think twice before committing too much money and effort to a highly expensive project.

Furthermore, we cannot rely on this bomb as a substitute for diplomacy. Having it will not justify avoiding the hard work of searching for enduring peace, for a plan to control this and all other destructive weapons.

On the contrary, if we successfully develop the H-bomb it will only increase our responsibility in the tireless quest that will make its use totally unnecessary.

Family Affair

Henry Luce, magazine editor, has refused a Republican bid to run for the Senate in Connecticut. He took some samplings of the trend in that state, and presumably didn't like what he found.

Connecticut's Republican leaders are, however, undaunted. With bold imagination and rare economy of effort, they have found their next prospect without even leaving the editor's household. They have offered the nomination to Mrs. Luce.

Never was so little energy expended in offering so much to so few.

Ps. 1:2; 63:6—7; 119:148; 121:1

RELATING THE NEW LIFE

Now that you have taken the step of receptivity you are ready for the last three. (7) Relate, Jesus was not a moralist relating you to an imposed moral code. He wasn't saying, "Do this"; "Don't do that." His method was to get people into right relationships, and then everything would follow from that. His first word was, "Follow me." Out of that relationship with Him would flow all other relationships. The most beautiful tribute I ever heard a man pay to his wife was that paid by a Negro bishop when he arose and said, "Fifty years ago I looked into the limpid depths of her eyes, and I've never got over the spell of it." Everything flowed from that central loyalty. Now that you have your central relationship with Christ pegged down, make all your other relationships fit into it. And remember that nothing is more central in the Christian way than bringing all your relationships under the guidance of this relationship.

The central principle of your relationships with people is: "Do unto others as you would that men should do to you." Give your employees the same treatment you would like if you were an employee. And thus go on down the line with every human relationship. But for the Christian there is something beyond even the Golden Rule: "Treat one another with the same spirit as you experience in Christ Jesus." (Philippian 2:5; Moffat.) In other words, "Treat others as Christ treats you"—that puts a plus, a beyondness, in the whole thing. Surrender yourself to that plus, that beyondness.

To do this you will need resources. Get them in the next step. (8) Refill, Replenish. This will be done in the Quiet Hour. A sheep rancher, living all alone on his Idaho ranch, found that his violin was out of tune and that he couldn't tune it without some standard note to go by. So he wrote to the radio station in far-off California asking them to strike that note. They did. They stopped the program, struck the note, the sheep rancher caught it, and the violin was in tune again. Your Quiet Hour will help you hear God's standard notes. Then you can tune up your flattened notes to His. Keep that Hour intact.

O God, I know there is nothing better than what I have found except more of what I have found. Help me to open every pore of my being to the incoming Life that heals, sustains, reinvigorates, empowers. I do so now—come in, Thou Life of my life, Thou Being of my being. Amen.

Arthritis Treatment Needs Full Diagnosis; Ingrown Toenails Caused by Careless Cutting

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service.

Arthritis is not only painful, but it is an extremely serious ailment as well. As I have suggested below, it's difficult to give advice on proper treatment without a full diagnosis.

Q—About two months ago my foot swelled up to twice its size. This happened in about 15 minutes. I was in terrible pain, and thought it was an attack of arthritis. It's almost gone now, and as I have never had this before, I would like to know if there are any precautions or preventives for arthritis.—M. S.

A—The usual kinds of arthritis do not start in the way described. Perhaps there is some other explanation for the foot swelling.

Without a positive diagnosis, treatment cannot be intelligently suggested.

Q—Our nine-year-old daughter has had attacks of painful cramps in her legs since she was five. Now she is taking swimming lessons and has to get out of the pool with a leg cramp which draws her toes.—B. D. P.

A—This is an obscure kind of condition the cause of which I cannot guess at. It does not, however, seem to me wise for a youngster with these symptoms to try to swim—certainly not in water which would be over her head.

Q—Can you give the name of a good skin specialist for something resembling eczema?—L. M. F.

A—I am sorry but I do not recommend individual physicians. You can obtain the names of qualified specialists from your County medical society or from the American Medical Association, 535 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, 10, Ill.

Q—For some time now, I have been troubled with ingrown toenails. What can I do to correct this and avoid it in the future?—C. S.

A—in most cases ingrown toenails are believed to result from cutting the nails too short or rounding them instead of cutting them straight across.

Q—Is an operation necessary for a ganglion on the under side of the wrist?—G. G.

A—A ganglion is a small tumor-like mass containing fluid. When it is hit it will disappear because the fluid escapes, but the condition re-forms. The only permanent cure is removal by operation.

Q—What are the chances of stopping bleeding after tooth extraction? What methods are used?—D. M. S.

A—Except in a bleeder, bleeding after tooth extraction should not be too difficult to stop. Pressure is one method. A stitch or two is another.

Q—Please tell me what causes an enlarged thymus? Do you think X-ray treatments would help? It causes a heavy breathing and a noise when breathing.—F. S.

A—The cause of an enlarged thymus is not known. X-ray treatments are sometimes used to try to cause this gland to shrink. It is also believed that the thymus may in some cases be the cause of noisy breathing by pressure on the breathing tubes. Some things about the thymus are still not well understood.

Q—What causes itchy foot blisters that fill up with water? Unless opened and covered with

THE STORY: Alice Pine, literary secretary to Muriel Halleck, a writer, is mystified at first, then infuriated by Muriel's husband, Brent, an artist. One night she suspects Brent of whipping his four-year-old adopted son. Later she hears Brent described as a going down-grade by one of the women who has known him many years. The night after the whipping episode, Alice sees bruises on Muriel's arm. Still Alice cannot wholly believe that Brent is all had when he surprises her while taking a night swim and has a long, heart-to-heart talk with her on the beach. He reveals that he is going away, to take an advertising job, and he asks her to look after Alice. "I've got to make money," says Brent.

Point held some sort of mystical allergy for the Hallecks. "I'm off tomorrow," Brent was saying. "Spending the week-end talking things over with people from the firm and looking for a place to live. And on Monday"—he chuckled, ruefully—"it's the salt mines."

Alice got to her feet. She was aware of having spent considerable time on the beach, far more than she had intended.

"Well," she said, "I hope it all works out, Brent. The—the way you want it to."

Impulsively she held out her hand.

BRENT arose more slowly. He looked at her, a peculiar glow in his eyes, and did not take the hand at once. But presently his fingers closed over it. The next instant he was drawing her gently to him.

Alice felt her feet move forward as though without her own consent. She shot him a half-baffled half-frightened glance. "Brent! Please!"

But, head crushed against his shoulder, her voice was muffled and indistinct.

Brent did not try to kiss her. He held her a moment, tightly. Then, all at once, she was free, and Brent had stepped back. "I'm sorry, Alice. That wasn't in the original script."

"It's all right." She put a hand to a head not quite steady. "But I've got to go. Right away."

"I know. I—oh, confound it! I've got to say it. Why did I have to meet you, Alice—years too late?"

"Brent," Alice scooped up her towel and cigarettes, "I don't understand you."

But Alice knew, in a wild, dismaying flash, that it was not Brent Halleck whom she failed to understand.

"No?" Brent's eyes were lowered. "Perhaps that's just as well. Forget it, Alice. But don't forget about Rick. Please!"

Alice Pine, still incredulous and rather breathless, turned to leave—just as Muriel Halleck stepped lightly from the lawn onto the beach.

At that moment Alice was grateful for only one thing, the darkness hiding cheeks which had turned suddenly to fire. She halted abruptly, the towel slipping through her fingers.

"M-Muriel!"

Muriel made a gurgling sound. "Alice, please! Don't look so abysmally guilty. I can't take it."

"B-but . . ." Alice had to stiffen her body. "Oh, Muriel, how long have you been here?"

"Not very long." Muriel's light-colored eyes were shining curiously. "But what does it matter? You wouldn't be the first attractive girl Brent's kissed on a beach."

"But he—he didn't."

"Oh? Well, I couldn't really see in the dark, not being that kind of cat. But he must be slipping."

Alice got herself together. "Look here, Muriel, I feel perfectly awful about this. And I don't know what to say. I don't know what possessed me, either."

"Brent did," Muriel's laugh was like a splash of silver. "In a most gentlemanly manner, I thought."

"Oh, Muriel!" Alice's feeling of guilt was fading away before her intense annoyance at the woman's attitude. "You needn't be so—so darned gay about it."

"How should I be?" The gleaming eyes widened. "Hysterical? Tragic? All right. I'll slip into my Duse mood."

"But it isn't funny. If you knew how dreadful—"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Give Us Back Our Sidewalks, Slim!

I wrote that over an article in the Clarion last week, but I didn't like doing it. After all, the man it was aimed at—Slim Henderson—is a good friend of mine.

Slim came into quite a windfall last month, and bought the old Clarke place. The deed gave him title to all the land—right down to the street. Then Slim started to take up the sidewalk to make his lawn look better.

I felt it wasn't fair to the town and said so in my article. Next morning Slim comes around and wants to know what I mean—getting folks riled against him. I felt ornery myself, and we had quite a set-to over the whole business.

From where I sit, that was foolish. Once we'd cooled off (over lunch and a bottle of beer at Andy's Tavern), Slim decided the sidewalks should stay—for the common good and I promised next time I'd take a good look at the other fellow's point of view before writing any articles about him!

Three Held as Rape Suspects

PARAGOULD, Ark., Feb. 8.—(P)—Three Brighton, Ark., youths were held Tuesday night for questioning in the alleged rape of a Cardwell, Mo., matron.

Sheriff Loy Newberry said the woman, a 30-year-old mother of three children, had identified the trio as the men she said attacked her in an automobile east of Paragould last night.

The Sheriff identified the prisoners as Yonel Stanfield, 18, Robert Cobb, 20, and W. D. McCormack, 22.

Newberry said Cobb and Stanfield, both of whom were held here, admitted being in the car. McCormack was in jail at Jonesboro.

No charges have been filed. The woman reported that she was waiting for a bus when the men pulled her into their car, the Sheriff said. She said each of them raped her in the car between Paragould and a service station seven miles east of here.

S-C Tigers Overpowered Columbia

Important Cage Game for Local Team Friday Night

The Smith-Cotton Tigers overpowered the Columbia Kewpies by a score of 60 to 26 in a conference basketball game played at Columbia Tuesday night. The Tigers took the lead from the start and carried it throughout the tilt.

In the first half of the contest, it was a fairly even game, but in the second half the Tigers pulled away causing the game to be a one-sided affair. The first quarter ended 13 to 11 with the Tigers out front. At half time the score read 23 to 16. In the third period, the score was 35 to 24 in favor of the Tigers.

Active Fourth Quarter

The fourth period was a hot one for the Tigers. Coach James Ball floored his entire squad at intervals. The squad scored 25 points, connecting with 10 field goals and five free throws. The Columbia team only managed to tally one field goal in that frame. In the final period, Coach Ball changed the offense around, proving a successful maneuver. Lankenau was the "hot rod" in the fourth period, connecting with four field goals. Holst was the big man in the first half, scoring 13 of his 21 points in that period.

The Tigers did not do too well on the free throw line, getting only 14 points out of 25 throws at the basket. Columbia hit for 4 out of 10 tosses.

Big Game Coming up

One of the best games of the season, as far as home town spectators are concerned, and one of the most important to the Smith-Cotton Tigers, will be staged at Smith-Cotton high school Friday night at 8:00 o'clock between the Tigers and the Hannibal team.

The powerful Hannibal cagers have not bowed to any team this season, having won all their games thus far. The Tigers need this victory to keep them in the CMO conference race and also to put them in a good regional showing which starts February 20 at Booneville. Hannibal is also one of the four remaining class A division teams of the state tournament which have gone undefeated.

The eight teams which will battle it out for a chance to go to the state tourney are: Smith-Cotton, Marshall, Booneville, Columbia, Fulton, St. Peters of Jefferson City, Jefferson City Jays and Kemper.

Knockouts in Golden Gloves

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(P)—The open class heavyweights will make their first appearance in the Golden Gloves tournament of champions' third session of boxing tonight, clearing the way for Saturday's finals.

Bob Miller of St. Joseph, one of four 1948 champions still in the running, is scheduled to meet heavyweight Jappy Dixon of Hutchinson, Kas., in one of the features.

Arthur Brown of Kansas City, who won in the nationals at Chicago last year, also will make his first start of the meet. The 112 pounder is paired against Jess Roariguez, also of Kansas City.

Tonight's program cleans up the novice semi-final stage and the quarter finals in the open division.

Other titlists from 1948 still in the running are Tano Avila, 135, and Jimmy Autry, 126, both of Kansas City. Avila meets Willie Dunsmore, also of Kansas City, while Autry is matched with Carl Johnson of Kelly Field, Tex.

The first two knockouts of the tournament were scored last night. Aubrey Aaron, Kansas City, stopped tough Joe Dorsett of Ft. Smith, Ark., in 37 seconds of the first round. Ed Torrello, also of Kansas City, knocked out Paul Jacobs, Excelsior Springs, Mo., in 33 seconds of the third.

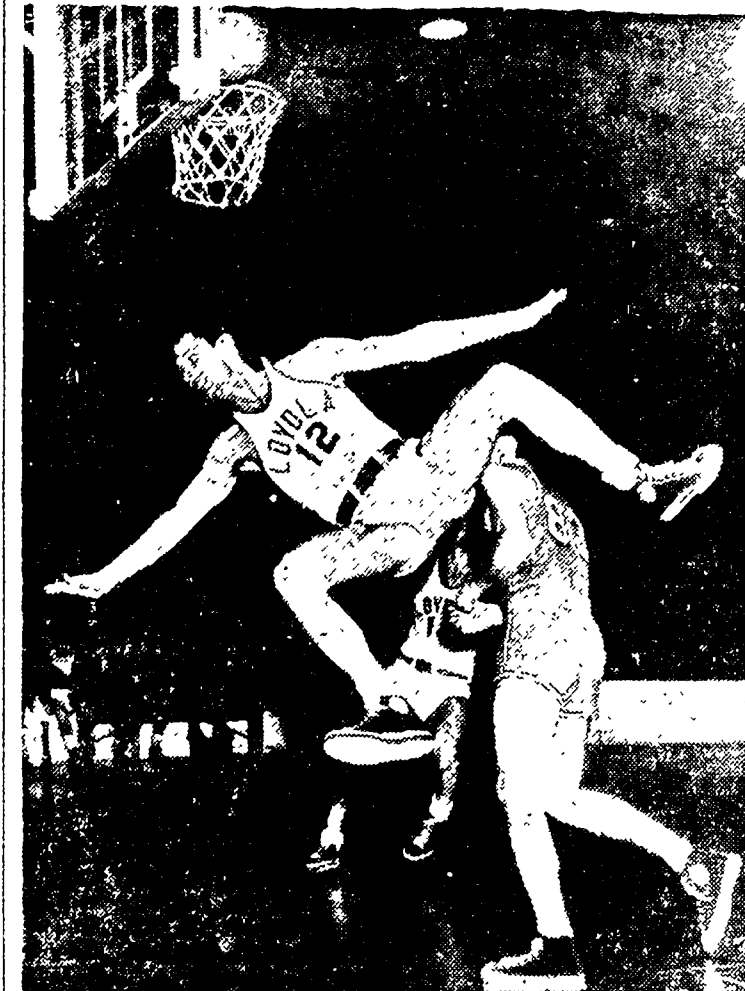

A crowd estimated at 4,500 witnessed the battles.

$2,500 Difference Over Detroit Tiger Contract

DETROIT, Feb. 8—(P)—The Detroit Tigers and second baseman Gerry Priddy were only a reported $2,500 apart on contract terms today amid indications he would be in the fold by night-fall.

Priddy, who drew $25,000 with the St. Louis Browns last season, turned down the Tigers' first offer yesterday. Best guesses were that he had been offered about $27,500 but was holding out for $30,000.

Unable to Talk Christman From Quitting Pro Football

CHICAGO, Feb. 8—(P)—Earl (Curly) Lambeau, new coach of the Chicago Cardinals, is finding his persuasive powers dimming since he left the Green Bay Packers.

Lambeau, who regularly used to talk famed Packer end Don Hutson out of "retirement," yesterday was unable to coax Cardinal quarterback Paul Christman to shelve his plan to quit pro football.

The 31-year-old Christman told Lambeau he intends to make his retirement stick so he can devote full time to his sporting goods sales job.

Faculty Will Face Williams' Five Stars In a Benefit Game

An interesting game of basketball is anticipated tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Smith-Cotton high school, when the Williams' Five Stars tangle with the faculty players in a benefit game to raise funds to purchase new curtains and scenery equipment, which has long been needed for the school auditorium.

In addition to the game, which in itself should provide many laughs and excitement, the crowd will be entertained in between halves by a giant pep rally and a comedy skit by the faculty.

Cheering Teachers

The pep band under the direction of Miss Geraldine Teufel will play and the Spiz club will do most of the cheering, although some teachers are reported all set to cheer the faculty team along, while the game is in full swing.

The faculty members in the game will be Jim Ball, John Allen, Ralph Bowers, Howard Glavin, Joe Benson, Emerson Matthews, Pinkney Miller and Gerhardt Jaeger. The majority of the named players have in their day been experts in the sport of basketball but it has been some years past since many of the teachers have participated on the court. Many spectators as well as some of their foes, the Five Stars, are wondering whether they will pass through the game without the use of liniment.

Azile Team

The Williams' Five Stars are, generally speaking, not too experienced on the court. But they are agile and therefore have a good fighting chance of clinching the tilt.

They will have 12 players suit up for the game and each one will be out to lay it on the teachers. They are: Myron Herrick, Art Conley, Bill Wheeler, Don Decker, Don Dowdy, Dale Whitfield, Bill Berry, Tiny Young, Don Purnmill, Gene Dowdy and Gene Williams.

Officials for the game will be: P. A. Silvers and Lloyd Parker.

CBC Goes to Warsaw Tourney

In 16 Games He Has Counted 356 Points

By Skipper Patrick

LAWRENCE, Kas., Feb. 8—(P)—Some basketball fans are suggesting changing the name of the University of Kansas to "Dear Ole Lovellette U." The suggestion applies, of course, only to basketball.

Clyde Lovellette, a sophomore cager and a smiling hunk of man—6 feet 8½ inches and 225 lbs.—comes from Terre Haute, Ind.

He left the Big Ten area and named him "Goon," a takeoff Kansas where Phoe Allen has been coaching basketball for 33 seasons.

Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky one of Allen's better known pupils, lent a hand to the Kansas cause when he advised the 19-year-old Indiana youngster: "If you don't come to Kentucky, then don't overlook Kansas. All the basketball I know I learned from Dr. Allen."

Personal visits from Allen clinched the deal.

In 16 games played, Lovellette has counted 356 points, an average of 22.2. While there are no records kept by the conference office for scoring in all games, Lovellette already has broken the Kansas school mark of 325 points set by the Jayhawks' great Charlie Black in 1946.

Lovellette also has bettered the Charlie Black record of 20 or more points in ten or more games. Lovellette has done it in 11 of his first 16 games. It took 68 games for Black to turn the trick.

The big guy is popular with his teammates. They've nicknamed him the "Goon," a takeoff on the name Phog Allen gave the tall boys over the nation when he was campaigning for 12-foot baskets. In a good natured manner, the Jayhawks refer to their cage sport as "Goonball."

Best Night With 36 Points

Lovellette's high for the season was 36 points against Drake. He dunked 30 points against Colorado, 29 each against Oklahoma and Missouri. He touched the sturdy Holy Cross defense for 25 and Duquesne for 23.

Ted Williams Signs at a Top Salary

Estimated Slugger Will Receive Sum of $125,000

BOSTON, Feb. 8—(P)—Red Sox slugger Ted Williams has signed the highest salaried contract in baseball history—for an estimated $125,000.

And he was as happy about it as an oil speculator striking a dozen new wells.

But neither Williams nor general manager Joe Cronin, who presided over the Fenway Park formalities, would divulge the exact terms.

"Yes, it is a better contract than I had last season," Williams replied when pressed on that angle. "I can't say more than that."

But Ted, seldom before seen in public in such jovial spirits, did say more.

"I am very happy about my contract and I only hope I deserve it," he elaborated. "and I hope that my play this season will warrant having such a fine deal with the club."

That was enough to get the assembled writers, who overflowed absent owner Tom Yawkey's private Fenway Park office in an estimating mood.

Red Sox salaries, under the Yawkey regime, always have been considered club secrets. But there have been enough leaks to indicate that Williams drew $90,000 in straight pay last season and had several bonus clauses based on attendance. Since the Red Sox drew 1,596,650, a new club record, Williams probably received another $15,000 for a grand total of $105,000.

Asked if he considered his new financial deal the biggest Boston has seen since the $1,500,000 Brink holdup, Williams replied:

"I guess so. Wasn't that a haul! But you know I'd rather take a little less."

"Just how much less?" a writer asked.

"I can't say," the American League's outstanding performer replied. "You have to ask this 'whalebilly' next to me."

Responding to that pointed reference to his avoirdupois, Cronin, choking with laughter, responded: "Ted has signed for the 1950 season and, naturally, you'll be surprised if I again tell you that we regard financial matters with our players as strictly our own business."

Bauer Sisters Lead in Women's Golf Meet

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8—(P)—Marlene and Alice Bauer, sensational golfing sisters from Midland, Texas, led the way into first round match play at the 40th annual women's golf championship today.

Fresh off their victory in the fifth annual women's international four-ball tournament at Hollywood, Fla., last week, the Bauer girls matched par 72 yesterday to top the field of qualifiers.

Each had a two over par 37 going out and two under par 35 coming in.

Defending champion Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, seeking her third Palm Beach crown, qualified with a 74. Betsy Rawls of Austin, Texas, and Marjory Burns of Greensboro, N. C., each had 75.

$545,000 For 'Gold Dust' Baseball Team

Williams is The Highest Paid Player in History

By Joe Falls

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(P)—It would cost $545,000 to field baseball's "Gold Dust" team, composed of the nine highest-priced stars on the diamond today.

An outfield of Ted Williams, Joe Dimaggio and Ralph Kiner alone would draw more than some entire major league teams will receive this year. The estimated figure—$290,000—is unparalleled for any three men in the sport.

The lineup for these diamond sluggers, with approximate salaries would be:

Tommy Henrich, Yankees, 1b	$45,000
Jackie Robinson, Dodgers, 2b	$35,000
George Kell, Tigers, 3b	$35,000
Lou Boudreau, Indians, ss	$35,000
Ted Williams, Red Sox, of	$125,000
Joe Dimaggio, Yankees, of	$100,000
Ralph Kiner, Pirates, of	$65,000
Bud Lettels, Red Sox, c	$25,000
Lon Newhouse, Tigers, p	$50,000

Totals $545,000
A fine team, but it would take a working agreement with Fort Knox to meet its payroll.

Purdue, Indiana Are Future Tiger Foes

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 8—(P)—The University of Missouri will play home-and-home football games with Purdue and Indiana universities of the Big Ten in 1953 and 1954.

Purdue will play here Sept. 26, 1953 and Missouri will go to Lafayette Sept. 25, 1954.

Missouri will meet Indiana in Bloomington Oct. 31, 1953 and in Columbia Oct. 16, 1954.

The Tigers need one more opponent for each of the two years to complete their 10-game slates. Besides Purdue and Indiana they will meet Southern Methodist U. and the Big Seven teams.

It May be a Tough Bout For Walcott

A Sizeable Crowd Is Expected to See 10-Round Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8—(P)—Jersey Joe Walcott shuffles into the arena ring here tonight to see if there's boxing life in the old boy yet.

As usual, the ageless Negro with the "cutie" style has picked no soft touch. He may find himself in 10 very tough rounds against youthful Harold Johnson, 22-year-old Negro light heavyweight who occasionally ventures into the heavyweight division.

Walcott hasn't fought since last Aug. 14 when he knocked out Olle Tandberg of Sweden in five rounds. Too, the Camden, N. J., father of six, celebrated his 36th birthday: this week. That's a mighty old age in the fight business.

Probably Joe's age never was brought home to him as vividly as it was the other day when it was discovered that he had once knocked out the father of the fighter he's meeting tonight. It was 14 years ago when Walcott knocked out Harold's father, Phil Johnson.

That most unusual angle alone seems sure to pull a sizeable crowd into the arena for the goings on, starting about 10 p. m. (EST).

Can Johnson Succeed

Can Johnson the younger succeed where Johnson the elder failed? The answer should be interesting either way.

Both fighters have a lot at stake in this battle.

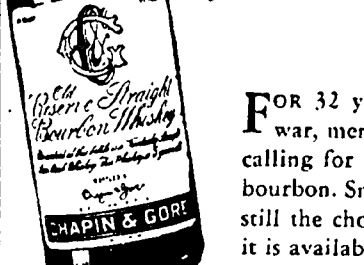

Walcott has a tour of the Caribbean scheduled, to be followed by a May 1 set to with Hein Ten Hoff, the German champion at Stuttgart. Then he may appear in Vienna and Rome.

World Downhill-Slalom Championships Next Week
ASPEN, Colo., Feb. 8—(P)—Coach Barney Maclean today gave his American ski team an outside chance of winning in the world downhill and slalom championships here next week. "With a few breaks we could be right in the e," he said. Such a situation would be quite a contrast to the jumping and cross country events in the east which have been dominated by foreign slat riders. The U. S. team is back in Aspen after working out at Sun Valley, Idaho, for two weeks. Skiers from 13 other nations also are here for the week-long event which starts Monday.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

WAITING FOR A STREETCAR, perhaps, or maybe just waiting for Lefty. Nobody who saw this unimpressive-looking Georgian peasant standing all alone on a Moscow street corner in the early days of the Russian Revolution could have foreseen that by mid-century he would be the most constantly and most closely guarded person in the world. At the start of this century, Stalin was an obscure Georgian youth of 20 who had just been expelled from a religious seminary and was now preaching Marxist doctrine in the Tiflis oil fields. From a Bolshevik revolutionist and a Siberian exile, he has grown to a position of dictatorial power unequalled in history, with his Communist empire creeping over ever-broader areas of the vast continent of Asia.

TROPICAL SWIMMING HOLE—The pool of the Caribe Hilton Hotel, San Juan, Puerto Rico, was blasted out of coral rock. It is filled with sea water, changed every four hours.

EXPLORER AND TROPHY—Donald B. MacMillan, 75-year-old explorer who is planning his 29th expedition to far north, stands with wife as they examine white owl brought from Greenland, at the Provincetown, Mass., Far North Museum.

West Europe Asks Billions From the U.S.

Want it for a Two Year Period Under Aid Plan

PARIS, Feb. 8.—(A)—Western Europe wants another $4,700,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 in American Marshall plan aid over the next two years to hold the line against communism.

The funds were asked by European member areas surveyed at the half-way mark of the recovery program inspired 32 months ago by former secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Congress will decide how much it gets.

The 325-page report will be scanned by congress before hearings on the appropriations for 1950-51, due to start Feb. 21.

The report's figures on needs for that fiscal year is roughly $3,000,000,000—not including military aid. President Truman has asked for $3,100,000, but Europeans fear this will be cut by an economy minded congress.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said in Washington today he believed the Economic Cooperation Administration was willing to cut spending for the year below the $3,100,000,000 figure. He made the statement after ECA Chief Paul Hoffman discussed Europe's economic situation with the senators.

For 1949-50, the total of Marshall aid was $3,778,000,000, plus about $400,000,000 in special assistance for Western Germany. Connally has proposed a slash of at least $1,000,000,000 from that figure.

Remove Bankruptcy Threat

The $8,257,000,000 already poured in, the report said, has removed the immediate threat of "bankruptcy and dissolution, with the political threats which would follow."

Distribution of Marshall plan funds is in the hands of the organization for European economic cooperation (OEEC).

The experts agreed that: "On this reckoning—the reckoning of life or death for western Europe—the first two years of the European recovery program have been unreservedly successful.

"This production effort is succeeding beyond expectations," with 1949 figures on everything from artichokes to zinc oxides up 25 per cent from 1947.

"Considerable progress has been made in x x x internal financial stability.

"x x x the habit of working together has been formed in all the OEEC countries."

Still to be solved, however, is the problem of how Europe can get the dollars to buy the American goods it needs after Marshall aid ends in 1952.

Would Continue Recovery

The experts who drafted the report calculated that the OEEC countries could "continue their recovery" if they get 75 per cent of the 1949-50 aid for 1950-51, and 50 per cent for 1951-52. This declining figure and the complete halt for mid-1952 were part of the original plan.

Written by a committee under the chairmanship of British economist Eric Roll, the report keeps diplomatically silent on the widespread European hope for longer range aid.

"After the middle of 1952," it says, "Western Europe will in any case have to balance its dollar accounts."

But the experts wonder whether this will have to be done by cutting down European imports from the United States. The report points out that, although the dollar gap has been narrowed considerably since the war, it will still be over $2,000,000,000 in 1951-52—a broad gulf to bridge all at once.

the son of Loren Lewis, young farmer. Lewis bought the farm and moved there last Thanksgiving.

Seven persons were arrested last spring in connection with disappearance of about $6,000 in old bank notes, gold certificates and silver and gold coins from the home of Miss Mary Hammer, slain recluse.

The aged woman was found dead in the barn of her farm home near Island City. The money was thought to have been cached away in a half-gallon tin can in the home of Miss Hammer.

The trial of Harold Emrich of Stanberry, charged with the murder of Miss Hammer, is scheduled to start in district court at Rock Port, Feb. 21. Freddie Edgar McQuinn was convicted and is under a 15-year-sentence in the slaying.

Hugginsville was an early settlement, a 6½ miles northeast of Stanberry. Island City is about five miles south of Stanberry.
